Burbulon Vex

Aka Clack.

See Burbulon Vex.

Irina Dulca

A vampire of some relatively old antecedents. Deceased as of the events of A Very UnCONventional Christmas, as described in The Bounty Game.

Jim Hickey

An ancient vampire, probably an elder. Known to Fox from his youth in the Majdanek concentration camp, where "Hickey" -- who has gone by many names over the millennia; Hickey is almost certainly not his real name, but an in-joke, and James may not even be his given name -- was a spy infiltrating the camp to a) obtain intel, b) help sabotage the operation, c) help protect the camp prisoners until they could be freed. He took an especial liking to young Franz Levy, and would keep an eye on him until Levy departed Europe for the new nation of Israel.

Appears in The Bounty Game, book 14, though the events depicted occurred during A Very UnCONventional Christmas, book 3.

Raph

An angel, likely the archangel Raphael. Likes to smite first and ask questions later. Has a direct link to Himself Upstairs, and is a good friend of Jim Hickey, vampire. Has a girlfriend, Lil, who is a succubus undergoing reformation.

Appears in The Bounty Game, book 14, though the events depicted occurred during A Very UnCONventional Christmas, book 3.

Lil

A succubus being reformed by the archangel Raphael, aka Raph. As such, he functions as her boyfriend. She has numerous supernatural powers, and a powerful glamor. The glamor is always "on," but she can, as Jim Hickey put it, "adjust the volume." She is one of the few beings ever to have made Agent Echo retreat. She is part of Hickey's "supernatural force," and a friend.

Appears in The Bounty Game, book 14, though the events depicted occurred during A Very UnCONventional Christmas, book 3.

Sean O'Donnell

A werewolf, and Jim Hickey's best friend. O'Donnell is considerably younger than Hickey, and with slightly different abilities. He's a "blood brother" as a result of events in Kate Paulk's Vampire Con series, which means they have a kind of bond produced by O'Donnell donating some of his blood to Hickey to feed when he was weakened after an attack.

Appears in The Bounty Game, book 14, though the events depicted occurred during A Very UnCONventional Christmas, book 3.
