

Kukulkan

A Mesoamerican deity found across the region and through a long timespan. The Yucatec Maya name Kukulkan translates to "Feathered Serpent." Some anthropological interpretations indicate he was a sky god. Likely the same being as Quetzalcoatl and Q'uk'umatz;; though his earlier names are not known, he predates the Olmec civilization, which began roughly 1600BCE, and was already one of their most important deities. More, the same concept/being is found in the indigenous peoples across North America as far afield as the Appalachians, where the Uktena of the Cherokee was considered a supernatural, ornately-decorated horned dragon monster. If the description is allowed to vary, this creature may have been known worldwide -- to the Celts, Greeks, Mesopotamians, Indians, and Orientals.

This being may have been the first human encounter with a Star Drake.
